[English: The original volume QQ-30.001 (formerly Q-30.092), which was known traditionally as the "Cliché Buch", and in English in our project as the "Sample Book" was photocopied as part of the project leading to the production of the web site, and the individual images then cut out and arranged by region under the reference numbers QA-30.001, QC-30.001, QD-30.001, QE-30.001, and QQ-30.003 to QQ-30.010. It is important as showing the kind of illustrations available for Basel Mission publications in the second half of the nineteenth century, and in being a reference set of wood engravings against which we can check which photographs were used as the basis for engravings for publications, and how (and if) the images were changed when they were being prepared for publication
